CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 30, 2020-- Global professional services firm Huron (NASDAQ: HURN) today announced financial results from continuing operations for the second quarter ended June 30, 2020.

"Second quarter revenues declined 1% over the prior year period, driven by weakness in the Healthcare business that was partially offset by solid growth in the Business Advisory and Education segments," said James H. Roth, chief executive officer of Huron. "Our second quarter results were better than we had anticipated as our teams rose to the challenge of remote delivery and developed innovative solutions to support our clients in this period of heightened disruption. We remain cautious about the second half of the year given the significant impact of the ongoing pandemic on our clients, particularly those in the healthcare and education industries."

"Health systems and universities are faced with the need to evolve their business models to respond to the significant uncertainty stemming from this new environment. This change is dramatic, and while it causes less visibility for our business in the short term, we believe these issues will drive increased demand for our services in the long term," added Roth.

COVID-19 IMPACT

The worldwide spread of coronavirus (COVID-19) has created significant volatility, uncertainty and disruption to the global economy. The company is closely monitoring the impact of the pandemic on all aspects of its business, including how it will impact its clients, employees and business partners. In the first six months of 2020, as a result of the pandemic, some clients have reprioritized and delayed some projects which negatively impacted demand for certain services, primarily in the company's Healthcare and Education segments. Conversely, the COVID-19 pandemic strengthened demand for cloud-based technology and analytics solutions and certain services provided to organizations in transition within the company's Business Advisory segment.

In the second quarter of 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic negatively impacted sales and increased uncertainty in the backlog for certain services, particularly within the company's Healthcare and Education segments. Therefore, the company expects the COVID-19 pandemic to continue to have an unfavorable impact on its financial results in the second half of 2020, which is contemplated in the full year 2020 guidance provided.

USE OF NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES<sup>(7)</sup>

In evaluating the company's financial performance and outlook, management uses EBITDA, adjusted EBITDA, adjusted EBITDA as a percentage of revenues, adjusted net income from continuing operations, and adjusted diluted earnings per share from continuing operations, which are non-GAAP measures. Management uses these non-GAAP financial measures to gain an understanding of the company's comparative operating performance (when comparing such results with previous periods or forecasts). These non-GAAP financial measures are used by management in their financial and operating decision making because management believes they reflect the company's ongoing business in a manner that allows for meaningful period-to-period comparisons. Management also uses these non-GAAP financial measures when publicly providing their business outlook, for internal management purposes, and as a basis for evaluating potential acquisitions and dispositions. Management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating Huron's current operating performance and future prospects in the same manner as management does, if they so choose, and in comparing in a consistent manner Huron's current financial results with Huron's past financial results. Investors should recognize that these non-GAAP measures might not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. These measures should be considered in addition to, and not as a substitute for or superior to, any measure of performance, cash flows or liquidity prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Management has provided its outlook regarding adjusted EBITDA and non-GAAP adjusted diluted earnings per share, both of which are non-GAAP financial measures and exclude certain charges. Management has not reconciled these non-GAAP financial measures to the corresponding GAAP financial measures because guidance for the various reconciling items are not provided. Management is unable to provide guidance for these reconciling items because we cannot determine their probable significance, as certain items are outside of the company's control and cannot be reasonably predicted since these items could vary significantly from period to period. Accordingly, reconciliations to the corresponding GAAP financial measures are not available without unreasonable effort.

In evaluating the company's financial performance and outlook, management uses earnings (loss) before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA"), adjusted EBITDA, adjusted EBITDA as a percentage of revenues, adjusted net income from continuing operations, and adjusted diluted earnings per share from continuing operations, which are non-GAAP measures. Management uses these non-GAAP financial measures to gain an understanding of the company's comparative operating performance (when comparing such results with previous periods or forecasts). These non-GAAP financial measures are used by management in their financial and operating decision making because management believes they reflect the company's ongoing business in a manner that allows for meaningful period-to-period comparisons. Management also (7) uses these non-GAAP financial measures when publicly providing the company's business outlook, for internal management purposes, and as a basis for evaluating potential acquisitions and dispositions. Management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to investors and others in understanding and evaluating Huron's current operating performance and future prospects in the same manner as management does, if they so choose, and in comparing in a consistent manner Huron's current financial results with Huron's past financial results. Investors should recognize that these non-GAAP measures might not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. These measures should be considered in addition to, and not as a substitute for or superior to, any measure of performance, cash flows or liquidity prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

As the company reported a net loss for the six months ended June 30, 2020, GAAP diluted weighted average shares outstanding equals the basic (8) weighted average shares outstanding for that period. The non-GAAP adjustments described above resulted in adjusted net income from continuing operations for the first six months of 2020. Therefore, dilutive common stock equivalents have been included in the calculation of adjusted diluted weighted average shares outstanding.
